Lighting Statements

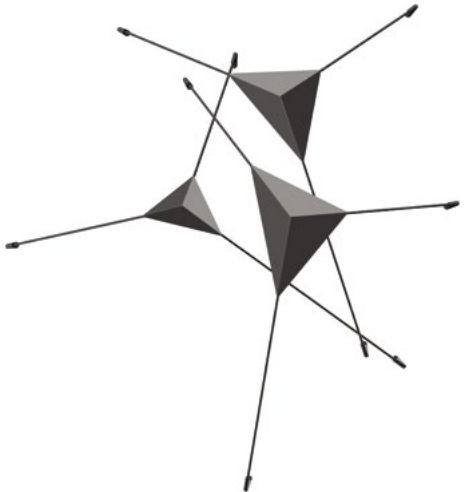

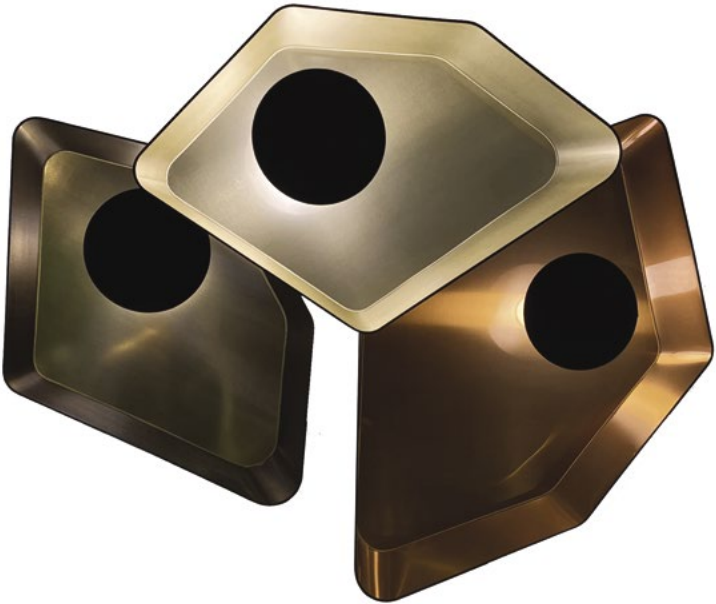

Lighting as mere function has long been overtaken by decorative fixtures that showcase style and a measure of extravagance. We see no reason to tone down this trend—statement-making fixtures command attention and set the tone for any room they grace.

Main Image: Exclusive | Trade Access Custom Nuage I5 Grand Chandelier by DESIGNHEURE Call to order • Dipping Light LED Table Lamp by Marset $445 - $2,215 • Beetle Upholstered Barstool Conic Base by GUBI $1,365 - $1,675 • Right page: Otero LED Chandelier by Larose Guyon $9,700 - $12,250 • Right top-bottom: New Contour Linear Pendant by Studio M $2,750 - $3,960 • Carousel LED Chandelier by Lee Broom $5,950 - $12,420

Wall Systems

From bold centerpieces to intricately connected—yet discreet—works of art, lighting systems offer customizable connections for spaces large and small. Clever applications of oversized floor lamps and configurable wall sconces, specified to your unique project, allows your creativity to shine through artful, bespoke arrangements.

Walk-In to Anne Sage's Modern Retreat

The Innovators Council

Setting out to create a walk-in closet that inspires serenity, Anne Sage looked to ground her design in clean lines, natural textures and good light. "Lighting is very much a sculptural moment in every project," she says. In this walk-in closet, Menu's Dancing Pendant provides a thoughtful and sophisticated but unexpected element that speaks to Anne's orderly while still playful aesthetic. Choosing a shape that contrasts and complements other pieces, like Menu's Tearoom Cairn Oval Pouf, creates a conversation between designs in the room, all atop the handcrafted Konstrukt Kelle Rug by Jaipur Living that provides a soft foundation upon which to start and end your days.

Marc Wood Studio

Reimagining traditional craftsmanship, designs by Marc Wood Studio combine exquisite glasswork with warm metals to create luxurious, contemporary lighting. Founder Marc Wood brings his longstanding connection to Czech glass pioneers to the brand's Deco collection, fusing his passion for jewelry design with the bold geometric forms of the 1920s. Customize Deco for spaces large and small as a single pendant or a stacked glass chandelier with optional bespoke metal finishes.
